theBMSproject's youth sports programs are tailored to contribute to the good health, safety and well-being of youth athletes and their families, as well as to mitigate liability risks for participating organizations. theBMSproject's youth in the arts programs serve the same purpose. The roles, services and resources of all four of the BMS Holdings Group LLC's are described in 3-minute introduction videos that can be individually viewed.

We work through youth event organizers, facility operators, for-profit and non-profit youth activities organizations (sports & the arts), educational institutions; as well as mental and physical health service provider institutions, coaches, teachers, instructors and counselors. We DO NOT attempt to tear-down silos... we DO strive to BUILD bridges between the silos.

All of BMS Holdings Programs are designed to be hassle free... simple to implement and maintain. In fact, each of the programs have been designed to only require ten minutes to be introduced by your organization. Each program introduction utilizes a nearly identical four-step process:

- 1) A 1-minute announcement drafted and distributed by the participating organization describing and explaining why the involved program is being announced
- 2) A 1-minute video introducing theBMSproject.org
- 3) A 3-minute video describing the selected program(s) of interest
- 4) Complete and submit a 5-minute, on-line license application (only used to populate BMS' contact database -- it does not create any commitment and/or obligations whatsoever)

THAT'S IT... 10-minutes and done!
